M ECHANICS, INVENTORS, MANUFACTURERS AND M Farmers.—The "Scientific American" has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th eptember. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now usued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechanical and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the Mechanic or Artizan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the Housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c .- if the Inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements-if the Manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and thus to employ the best facilities in his business—if the Man of Leisure or Study wishes to keep him ed to him, begs to assure the public that no pains will be spared to give utire satisfaction to them and strangers visiting Honers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderate can be found in the "Scientific American, and not elsewhere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science

ARRIVAL OF THE "FELIX!" EUROPEAN NEWS!

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR! THE AUSTRIANS RETREATING! THE BATTLE OF THE MINCIO!

The Allies again Victorious --- Over 400,000 Men in the Field ... Mantua Besieged ... Change in the English Cabinet -----Palmerston and Russell ... Germany Restless --- Russia Threatening, &c. &c.

By the arrival of the bark Felix, in 15 days from San Francisco, we have received late and important news from the seat of war. Dates from London to 25th of June arrived at St. Johns, N. F., July 6th, and telegraphed to New Orleans, inform us of another terrible battle in Lombardy. Washington, July 2 .- Mr. Adams, the æronaut, who ascended in a balloon at St. Louis yesterday, and di-The Agents at Honolulu sell Bills of Exchange in sums to rected his course towards the Atlantic, landed here this evening in safety, having successfully navigated the air, and accomplished the journey between St. Louis and Washington in 24 hours.

LONDON, June 22. The Allied army has pursued the retreating Austrians into their stronghold, and nearly the entire Austrian army is now concentrated within the famous historic square.

The Allies are beseiging the great fortress of Mantua, and a decisive battle is soon expected. Victor Emanuel has officia'ly declared that he would not cansent to the annexation of any portion of the States of the Church to the Sardinian Kingdom. The Pacha of Egypt has suspended the works commenced by the French upon the Suez canal. The French

Later advices from India have been received in England which confirm the reports of the disaffection of the European troops. There are signs of a mutiny among the troops at Gwalior, Merub and other places. LONDON, June 25 .- The disputches forwarded by the Vanderbilt, left the Allies at Brescia, where Napoleon had established his head-quarters, and Garibaldi was at Lenato, where his position was threatened by the Austrians, and the French army was advancing on that point by forced marches. The Allied army have since occupied Senato Castig-

lione and Monte Chiaro, and were at latest advices making a general movement towards the river Mincio, where the Austrians have made a stand and are preparing for a general engagement. The Emperor Napoleon has joined the camp of the army, and a decisive battle is hourly expected.

The Austrian Government has formally declared that the cruelties attributed to Gen. d'Urban, as announced in a proclamation issued by Count Cavour, the Prime Minister of Sardinia, are entirely unfounded. A deplorable and sanguinary collision has taken place at Perugia, an important town in the Papal States, between the soldiers of the Pope and the inhabitants of the town. Prussia is marching a large army upon the Rhine. LONDON, June 25.-Noon,-Dispatches from Paris announce that the Emperor Napoleon telegraphed to blood. A sure cure for Scrofula, Rheumatism, Ulcers the Empress Regent, under date of Friday evening, June 24, that a terrible battle had been fought and a great victory achieved by the Allied army. The whole Austrian army and nearly the entire force of the Allied army are engaged in the conflict. The entire Austrian army were formed in line of battle and extended five leagues. The battle lasted from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 o'clock in the evening of Friday, the 24th.

The French took a large number of prisoners, flags and cannon. About 400,000 men were engaged in the battle. A Vienna dispatch says that the battle was still progressing, but details of the engagement had not been made known by the Government. Previous accounts from the seat of war state that the Austrian force on the river Mincio, was 280,000 strong, and that the entire French force had passed Monte Chiaro-that they had made a reconnoisance as far as Goito, and that the Piedmontese army were advancing towards Peschiera. No further details have been received. The Prussian Government had demanded permission of Hanover to march 30,000 troops through that territory to the Rhine. It was believed that the basis of the proposed mediation of Prussia would not be acceptable to France, and that Prussia would thereby become involved in the war on the side of Austria. It is also rumored that Prussia has threatened to assist in the suppression of the Hungarian revolutionary movement.

LONDON, June 25 .- The correspondent of the London Times says that Garibaldi and his men are accomplishing remarkable feats in taking various Austrian positions by surprise, sometimes marching 30 miles a day, and arousing the country through which he passes in favor of the cause of independence. Napoleon's dispatch to the Empress Regent, announcing the great victory of the Allies on the Mincio, was dated at Cairiana, and states that the Allied army had driven the Austrians from and taken all their positions, besides capturing many guns, standards and prisoners. The cannonading at the battle was very heavy, and was heard at Verona. The official Preusiche Zeitung says that the Franco-Sardinian army is moving near the frontiers of Germany, and that the Prussian Government regards the security of Germany as entrusted to her care. England and Russia are actively arming on the largest scale. Milan dispatches confirm the advance of French troops towards the Valteline.

The Prussian Government wish Hanover to permit Prussian corps d'armee to pass through its territory between the 1st and 5th of July. The British Ministry have resigned, and Lord Palmerston is Premier, Lord John Russell Foreign Secretary. The Austrians have evacuated Piacenza, Pavia, Lodi, Bologna, and Ancona. The citadel and fortifications of Piacenza were first blown up.

Prince Metternich is dead (June 11.) PARIS, June 13. The Patrie says that the Austrians have completely evacuated the States of the Church, including even Ferrara. The same paper states that the people of Parma have asked that French troops may be sent into their country. GREAT BRITAIN.

The new Ministry is constituted as follows, but it not officially announced : First Lord Treasury-Viscount Palmerston. Chanceller Exchequer-W. E. Gladstone. Foreign Secretary-Lord John Russell. retary_Sir C. G. Lewis. Colonial Secretary-Duke Newcastle. War Secretary-Sir C. Wood. First Lord Admiralty-Duke Somerset. Lord Chancellor - Lord Bampbell. President of Council - Earl Granville. Privy Seal-Duke Argyle. Postmaster General-Lord Elgin President Board of Trade-Mr. Cobden. President Poor Law Board-Milner Gibson. First Commission of Works-Cardwell. Chancellor of Duchy of Lancaster-Sir G. Grey. Sir A. Cockburn succeeds Lord Campbell as Lord Chief Justice of England. Sir Benjamin Hall is to be created a Peer.

Parliament reassembled on the 17th. Lord Derby, in the Lords, officially announced the esignation of his Cabinet, and in doing so he warmly lefended the foreign policy of Malmesbury. Granville reserved explanatisms of the policy of the new government for a future day. The House adjourned till the 21st.

No. 16.

of the Cabinet, and moved a further adjournment till the 21st. Agreed to. The Times leading article of the 13th June has the following: The veto on Saturday morning left no choice to the Ministry of Lord Derby, however tenacious of office, except at the earliest possible moment to place their resignation in the hands of Her Majesty. At an early hour on Saturday morning, the Cabinet assembled and agreed to place their resignation in the hands of the Queen. This was done, and the fact of the Ministerial resignation was formally announced by Lord Derby at the banquet of the Merchant Tailors' Company, at which several of the Ministers were present. On the afternoon of Saturday Lord Granville received a summons from the Queen to wait upon her Majesty at Buckingham Palace. We have reason to believe that Her Majesty, after listening to all the objections which Lord Granville had to offer, commanded him to form an administration which should ut once be strong in ability and parliamentary influence, and should at the same time comprehend within itself a full and fair representation of all the sections into which the liberal party had notoriously been divided.

Furnished with this commission, Lord Granville waited upon Lord Palmerston and communicated to him the views of the Queen. In the handsomest manner and without the slightest hesitation, Lord Palmerston consented to have and act under Lord Granville as Prime Minister.

In the first interview Lord Granville was disposd to insist upon conditions which would render any union or co-operation with Lord Palmerston impossible, whether the government was presided over by Lord Granville or any other person. The Queen, upon being satisfied by Lord Granville that he would only be an obstacle, instead of a means of facilitating the union between Lord Palmerston and Lord John Russel, sent for Lord Palmerston, who had an audience of Her Majesty, which lasted one hour and a half. On Lord Palmerston's return from the palace, he immediately set out for Richmond to confer with Lord John Russel. He consented to serve under Lord Palmerston, but not under any other person, and he appears to stand on the letter of his agreement.

Turin, June 17. Yesterday the headquarters of the Emperor were at Covo, on the road from Bergamo to Cremona, and those of the King of Casteegnato, six miles to the west of Brescia. Rimini and Cecese have pronounced for the National cause. The official bulletin published to-day announces from Tuscany that Prince Napeleon had commenced the movement of his troops. Ten thousand Tuscan troops with 800 horses are ready to depart Ravenna has pronounced for the National cause, and a manifesto has been published declaring the adhesion of that town to a central government established at Bologna, which is to be placed under the dictatorship of the King of Sardinia. The manifesto also expresses the unanimous wish to be enabled some day to form part of a monarchy worthy the gratitude of the Italians. Were the question to be confined to the present state f affairs, the policy to be pursued might be stated in a entence. Austria is flying homewards-France and Sardinia are pursuing her across the Adda-free corps are molesting her in the North-Venice is about to be attacked immediately on the East, and on the South the whole Peninsula is rising against her and expelling her armies and her garrisons. The only advice to be a moral opprobrium. No doubt this and similar considerations will be in due time urged upon Austria by the ministers who have undertaken to divide the responsibility of our foreign relations. A Turin dispatch says that after the retreat of the Austrians from Bologna the Cardinal Legate departed given is that Austria should accommodate herself to these painful circumstances, just as England admitted

the independence of the United States, and France twice submitted to the dictation of invaders. There can be no glory gained by a stubborn or even a victorions resistance to the just claims of a great nation, and it is unwise to wage war where military success incurs
